

THE EAGLE HOUSE MAGAZINE.

STAS, ET IN ÆTERNUM STES, AQUILINA DOMUS.

EASTER TERM, 1916.

EDITORIAL.

A GREAT effort has been made to have the Magazine issued at an earlier date this term, and it is hoped this number will be issued very soon after the term ends. Very unusual circumstances favoured us, and yet the earlier preparation has been very difficult, so much so indeed that it almost takes away any hope of early issues in ordinary terms.

THE WAR.

OUR illustrations this term are photographs of Major S. M. Tahourdin, Lieut. Austin Murray, and Lieut. W. W. Nicholas. Tahourdin and Murray are familiar names at Eagle House. There have been four Tahourdins here. Three were brothers—W. Le Bas Tahourdin, S. M. Tahourdin, and V. R. Tahourdin, whose names are always before us, two on the Scholarship Lists and the last on the Gymnasium Board. The fourth Tahourdin was their cousin, Philip, who was here not long ago and went on to Rugby, the R.M.C., and the Indian Army (47th Sikhs).

Austin Murray is one of the great names of Eagle House in Mr. Lockhart's first years here, and will be for ever associated in many minds with the splendid band of boys who contributed so much to the efforts and successes of those days:—Phil Broadmead and Harold Hilliard; Austin Murray and Charles Stanuell; Rob and Norman Lockhart, John Bradshaw and Nicholas, to mention only the most prominent.

Murray's aunt was married to Walter Malan, I.C.S., (O.E.H., Winchester and Oxford), and his cousin, P. Talbot is now at the School, so his connection with Eagle House was close and intimate.

The end of Term was saddened by more sorrowful news when the Headmaster was informed on the 4th of April that still another of those leaders who, in Mr. Lockhart's earlier years here, helped him so much to build up the School. It was but a few days before that the writer put the name of W. W. Nicholas down in the list of our great names, when writing of Murray, and now he too has made the great sacrifice—"Killed in action somewhere in France."

PRO PATRIA.

AUSTIN MURRAY, the eldest son of the Rev. F. A. Murray, Vicar of Chigwell, Essex, was born on Jan. 4th, 1895. He was educated at Eagle House from Jan., 1904, to Dec., 1908, and gained a Scholarship at Haileybury for Classics. He won an open Scholarship for History at Jesus College, Cambridge, and would have gone into residence in October, 1914, but at the outbreak of the War he offered his services to his Country, and was given a Commission in the Essex Regiment. During his year's training he was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant, and his Battalion went out to France in the Autumn of 1915, with the 24th Division.

They were sent up as reinforcements at the Battle of Loos on 26th Sept. Austin Murray went through most of that terrible day's work unhurt, but at last he was severely wounded on the chest. One of his men drew him into a ditch by the La Bassée Road, alive but unconscious. That man was asphyxiated by gas, and remembers no more: no more has ever been heard of Austin Murray from that time. Every effort has been made, every source of information searched, without result. Hope seems to exist no more, and another name has been added to the list of those whose fate is wrapped in obscurity.

Austin Murray was one of our very best in every way: strong and solid in character, in body and in mind. A Scot by descent, he had the powerful physique, the solid mental power, and the grave steadiness of his race. He was a great arguer and reasoner, so much so that as a boy here he was often called the Lord Chancellor, and his open Scholarship at Cambridge was proof of his sound ability. In character he was above all things reliable and trustworthy, with a high standard. In physique he was a stalwart, and excelled in the school games. He was a resolute bat, a steady bowler, and a plucky fielder. A great point-blank catch of his at mid-on lives in the memory as one of the three best catches I ever saw made by a small boy.* But it was most of all in

* The others were, a great catch by W. R. Shirley at deep square leg, and, best of all, a wonderful catch low down at point by John Bradshaw from a hard cut by Grenville Grey of Wixenford—another fine fellow who, we fear, has fallen in his County's service.

Rugby football that Murray shone: all the "perfervidum ingenium Scotorum" rose in him there, and made him a player of the highest promise. He was a forward of the finest type. At Haileybury they made him, and long kept him, a full back; but in his last year he got his place forward in a strong team reputed to have the best pack of all the Public Schools.

Among the fine forwards the writer has seen during thirty years of constant coaching five† stand out like peaks in a great range as forwards who, given the opportunity, would rise to the highest honours in the game. Murray was not the least of these, and the Scottish Rugby Union were long ago advised to look out for him when he got to the University. Here we remember him for many things; his leadership, his great play in our matches (perhaps special mention may be made of the victory at Osborne in his captaincy), his acting—he gave a great performance with Norman Lockhart in "La Grammaire"— but above all, his personality. Our deepest sympathies go to his sorrowing parents. When he was so much to us, what must he have been to them.

SPENCER MAXWELL TAHOURDIN, (E.H. 18 —), Major, 12th Cavalry, Indian Army, died on February 8th in Mesopotamia, having been wounded in action the previous day. He was the eldest of the three sons of the Rev. Richard Tahourdin, Hon. Chaplain to the King, of 62, Evelyn Gardens, S.W., who died a year ago, and of Mrs. Richard Tahourdin, of 41, Queen's Gate Gardens, S.W. Born at the Cloisters, Windsor, in 1875, he was educated, first at Eagle House School, Sandhurst (Mr. Malan's), and then at Malvern, where

† The other four are A. Frew (Edinburgh University and Scotland), H. S. Sharp (Rugby and Oxford), R. M. M. Lockhart (Marlborough and R.M.C.), and Vernon Whittall of the present Rugby XV.

he gained a Scholarship, and whence he passed into the Royal Military College. He passed out of Sandhurst at the head of the candidates for the Indian Army in the summer of 1895, obtaining his first commission, unattached, in August of that year, and joining the Indian Staff Corps at the end of 1896. He served the whole of his 20 years in India with the 12th Cavalry, with two short breaks—the first when he was employed from January 7th, 1904, to August, 1906, with the King's African Rifles, and the second when he was employed for a period as adviser to a young native rajah. Major Tahourdin's brother, Captain V. R. Tahourdin, Cheshire Regiment, has been a prisoner of war in Germany since the battle of Mons, and his other brother was in the Indian Civil Service, but died after only two years' service.

A Memorial Service was held at St. Paul's, Knightsbridge, by the Rev. Canon Sheppard, D.D. Besides the family, Cols. Carleton, Lynch and Myers, Lady Duckworth and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid were present. Bugles and Drums of the 5th Grenadier Guards sounded the Last Post.

WALTER WYNNE NICHOLAS, son of Rev. T. F. Nicholas, British Chaplain in Gambia, was born on Sept. 15th, 1895. He came to Eagle House in Sept. 1905, and left for Dover College in April, 1910. He was very small in size, but his spirit was great. He was as "hard as nails," and his pluck and keenness made him a prince of tacklers. He was five years in our XV., and won the Gymnastic Cup. What was felt about him is shown in the words of this Magazine when he left us:—"they will all be missed in many ways, and none more than our great little man, who has been in the heart of everything in these last four years: in all the learning of the "Rugger" game, and in all the great matches with Wells House, The Dragons, and Osborne: well could he say "Magna pars fui," though the magna would not be in the stature sense. Those who saw his great tackling of Forgas (Wells House) and at Osborne are not likely to forget it. Well might Mr. North say after the Farnborough match 'if we had had Nicholas, we'd have beaten you.'

At Dover College he did well, and of course got his XV. cap. When the war broke out he got a commission from the School, and joined the 7th Batt. Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, and after his training was sent out in the B.E.F. across the Channel and has given his life in the service of his Country. While at Dover he came to see us several times but not since he wore the King's Uniform. He was near here on short leave last Christmastide but he felt he could not come over so soon after the death of Norman Lockhart, whom he had known so well and with whom he had fought in so many a well fought match. Now he too has fallen in action, killed instantaneously on 29th March in a very hard fighting corner. His Colonel writes that he was very popular, always cheery and bright and a very good officer. We can well believe it, and many of us who knew him here and some we fancy who only saw him play, will deeply regret that such a brave spirit has passed from the battle-field of life.

Lieut. R. M. M. Lockhart, 51st Sikhs F.F., had a narrow escape in the battle at Sheik Saat. He was M.G. officer in the Advance Brigade of the Relieving Force and got up to look through his binoculars when he was at once hit by three or four bullets. Fortunately the worst were flesh wounds in the thigh, and, after some seven weeks in hospital, he returned to duty with his Regiment about the end of February.

WALTER WYNNE NICHOLAS.

Lieut., 7th Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry.

Killed in Action, March 29th, 1916.

Lieut. Dick Lacy, 4th Hampshires, is away there shut up in Kut-el-Amara. In the same regiment is Lieut. Godfrey Elton, whom some may remember as writing critiques of our plays for the E.H.M. The last news from the 4th Hampshires was good and full of cheery confidence.

Hal Hilliard (E.H., 1904—1907), Lieut in 1st Berks, has been home on leave from the front after about a year's active service. He came to see us on 25th of March, and brought his fiancée, P. Broadmead's sister. Our heartiest congratulations to this "E.H." engagement.

Jack Van der Byl (E.H. 1907-1910) who was here in the same week as Hilliard, has got leave after a long spell at the Dardanelles. He was at the great landing of the immortal 29th Division at Helles and was, we suppose, one of those Midshipmen who did such admirable work in these landings. He certainly looks in splendid trim after his long service.

Bobbie Reid, (E.H. 1909-1911) R. Berks. left for the B.E.F. on Monday, March 20th. We are sorry to hear Bobbie Reid's brother Jack has been wounded with the loss of one of his legs.

L. E. Whitehouse (E.H. 1910-1912) is still serving under Admiral de Roëbeck, with whom he served all through the Dardanelles expedition.

SCHOOL NOTES.

TERM began on Wednesday, January 19th, when the following new boys joined the School:—

J. B. McCall.	Philip Garnett.
Charles Elderton.	W. Deane Pollock.
Nigel Hogg.

These five filled the places of the five who left at Christmas and kept our numbers at 56, Dauncey being still unable to return.

We started minus a master, Mr. J. C. Miller resigning owing to ill-health, and his successor, Mr. O. Shepherd, B.A. (Hons.), Queen's College, Cambridge, could not join at once because of influenza.

The most notable thing about the term has been the unparalleled weather.

At first it was very mild, yet on Wednesday, Feb. 9th, the frost was so hard we had to postpone the Dragons match. On February 23rd the change began with a fall of snow, and from that date onwards there has only been one thing consistent about the weather, namely that it is sure to be bad. Snow-storm, sleet-storms, and above all rain-storms have followed day by day. Our fields which we used to think so very dry have been saturated—for sixteen days we did not play on the big field, and New Field was unplayable often. The skating pond reached a record height at Christmas, but that record was soon left far behind.

Despite some glorious snow fights the weather was most depressing, and we got thoroughly tired of days when we could not play, and the repeated postponement of matches. Boots and stockings were wet through day after day, and those responsible for drying them must have taken weeks off their life.

The state of our playing fields has really caused much anxiety. They used to recover so quickly after rain that this trouble is difficult to explain. The rain has of course been unprecedented, but most of the field does dry up very well, yet the East Side will not dry rapidly like the rest.

We had Common Entrance Exams. on March 20th, when E. Whittall passed into Rugby and W. Buck into Wellington. Stephenson passed so well into Wellington at Christmas that they did not wish him to sit the Exam. again. These three will be a great loss to us, especially in games. They were the mainstays of our XV., and of Whittall and Stephenson great things were expected this year in Cricket. We hope they will be as successful and as happy in their Public Schools as they have been here.

As Wellingtonians are not allowed out visiting this term we have seen nothing of them, but D. H. Yatman, (R.M.C.), and John Widdicombe (who is waiting to go to R.M.C), have been frequent visitors. We have also had visits from H. Hilliard, Mr. H. W. Arden, J. Van der Byl, Mr. Arnold Jones, L. Forsyth, and D. H. Welch.

On Sunday, January 29th, the Rev. St. J. B. Wynne Willson, Headmaster of Marlborough, preached in our Chapel. His subject was "Easy-going ways" (rathumia), and the need of taking life seriously. Mr. Wynne Willson has been headmaster to so many O.E.H. boys that we, and they also no doubt, have heard with great regret that he is to sever his connection with Marlborough in order to become Dean of Bristol.

Our field-days went on as usual until Bambridge was called up with his Group. Mr. Lockhart and Mr. Shepherd then began to continue them, but the wretched weather soon closed all such expeditions.

A number of boys this term have been enthusiastic woodmen, and have done much useful work and got both excellent exercise and valuable experience.

Two handsome boards for recording, one the winners of Scholarships, the other our Head Prefects, have been erected in Big School. These are the gift of Major and Mrs. C. R. Bradshaw, presented as a visible sign of their gratitude to Eagle House. Their two sons, John and Fred were here, one or both, from September, 1905, to July, 1914.

Although it was decided not to hold the usual School Sports this year, we had Athletic Contests on Saturday, April 1st. We had a perfect day for these events, of which a full account will be found below.

A new arrangement is made in this number, by which a School Order for the past term is combined with the table of ages and measures. This will be found at the end of the Magazine.

Term ended on Wednesday, April 5th, and the next term begins on Thursday, May 4th. These dates will unexpectedly clash with those of Wellington College, which are usually on Tuesday and Friday. Parents would therefore be wise to send boys, wherever possible, by the Camberley train leaving Waterloo at 4.10. This is the best train, at any rate. It is very important that Mr. Lockhart should know how many boys are to be met. For this purpose post-cards are supplied: these should be posted so as to reach Eagle House at least one day beforehand. Each boy is responsible for seeing that his card is posted.

OLD BOYS' COLUMN.

OUR congratulations to George N. C. Stopford, (E.H., 1904—1906), son of Hon. George Stopford of Coolnagloose, Inch, Co. Wexford, 3rd Batt., Royal Irish Regt., on his marriage to Mary Georgina, daughter of the late Canon Newland, of Buncrana, Co. Donegal.

Many old Boys will be heard of in the War News.

J. Rose Troup was at Eagle House from May, 1900, to July, 1903; at Harrow, 1903—8; and then went to New College, Oxford. He was once a subscriber to this Magazine, but some years ago the Magazines were returned, and all efforts to find his address failed. On March 1st the following Verses appeared in the Westminster, and we should very much like to know if the writer is our Old Eagle House boy.

Of all the many honours England gives
 To those who fight for her, one stands apart;
 He who receives it dies, yet ever lives
 In England's heart.

Bestowed on all alike, bondman or free,
 This great last tribute England pays her sons;
 There "Killed in action," clear for all to see
 The legend runs.

A rude cut emblem for the noble dead,
 A silent witness to her army's loss,
 England sets up above each warrior's head
 The Wooden Cross.

WELLINGTON.

Jack Girling has left and is training with the (Reserve) 3rd Battalion of the Hampshire Regiment. R. Griffin has been up for Smalls at Oxford, and has left Wellington to wait for a commission.

C. Griffin (Lynedoch) is now in the Mathematical Sixth, and last term gained the prize in the Form below. L. Montalto (Lynedoch) is in Lower Second. F. Bradshaw, Middle Third (Combermere), played for his Dormitory 2nd XV., represented them in the Gym. Competition, and has joined the Corps Band as flutist. D. Boileau, Shell, (Orange), has played for his 2nd Dormitory XV.—and played remarkably well, as a spectator informed us. H. Pollard is in Middle IV. He played sometimes for his Dormitory 2nd XV. and in all their Under 16 matches. (Not bad seeing he was in our 2nd XV.)

Vernon Whittall (Hawkesworth's) has passed as an Interpreter in French, German, Greek and Turkish. He will have (or has) a Sec.-Lieutenant's Commission. We fear this means that he is leaving Rugby. All the other O.E.H.s have had Rose-rash. This, luckily, did not cut Stapledon out of the Athletic Contests, in which he did remarkably well. Liddell and J. Pattinson are showing good promise in football, and Inglis and Liddell in Cricket. Lloyd has not been able to play football since his accident: a great pity for such a fine player. Warren is expected to do well in shooting.

BRADFIELD.

L. E. Dunnett is in Upper Sixth, F. L. Ingall in Remove B., and H. Pain in Remove C.

CHELTENHAM.

We heard—too late for last number of E.H.M.— that George Palmer got a prize. Congratulations—but we are afraid G.P. is trying for the place of proud pre-eminence where stand the one or two boys who have never written us since they left.

MARLBOROUGH.

E. K. M. Paul is House-Captain of Fleur-de-Lys (Sandford's), and is in Form VI. He has played for the School at Hockey. R. Meyrick is also in Form VI. Holmes, now in Mod. V., has got his Hockey colours for his House (Preshute). In the same House, R. Lockhart (Mod. Upper I.), C. A. Fisher (Mod. V.2.), and Davidson (Mod. Upper Shell), all played on Lower, i.e., for House Second. In the Rugger at the beginning of term Lockhart was chosen to lead the squash in the Under 16 trial game, but an injury stopped his play. Tudor-Hart is still in the Classical Shell, but Knight passed into the Remove, and has risen to the top of it. Bulcock is in Upper IVA., and R. Fisher in Upper IVB. R. Wilson passed into the Upper III. Like Bulcock and Tudor-Hart, he played "on Third." Several of the above have been in "Sicker," and R. Fisher a good deal there. A Fisher, R. Lockhart and T. Sale all got promotions this term. R. Lockhart was highly commended in Competition for Piano-playing.

WINCHESTER.

J. Pennycuick is our only remaining Wykehamist. He is in Sixth Book, Senior Div., and a House Prefect. W. G. Mills has joined His Majesty's Forces.

LENT TERM FOOTBALL.

THE playing of "Rugger" as a Lent Term game by a number of "Soccer" Schools has given a new character to our Lent Term. Formerly one match or so was all we could find, but nowadays we have quite a heavy card, in fact it is difficult to find dates for all the games in view. This year no less than ten matches were in prospect, viz., Dragons and Wells House, one each, and double fixtures with Lambrook, Cordwalles, Farnborough and Marlborough House, making in all ten matches. The Spring Term, however, is the term of ailments, and these deprived us of four matches, viz., those with Wells House, Lambrook (2), and Marlborough House. Another enemy was the weather, which caused so many postponements that only the greatest persistence brought off the Cordwalles matches, while the return with Farnborough fell through.

Of course these matches are not all for our first XV. A school that only plays "Rugger" in the Spring Term can hardly hold its own with a "Rugger" School, and on the whole we think that a team half first, half second, that is one of the sides in our First Game, is the best XV. for such opponents. In some cases we can even play our 2nd XV. but it was a mistake to try that against Farnborough, and spoiled the match. As we lost five good players at Christmas our 2nd XV. was much weakened, and we played the "old Second" v. Mr. Jones' boys. Our first was not so much weakened, as three of the 2nd made excellent substitutes, viz., Pantin, Whitehouse and Garratt. Dalrymple should have completed the side, but he fell off instead of improving, but a new boy, McCall, showed form quite good enough for a place. The loss of players like Boileau and R. Wilson was hardly replaced, yet we beat the Dragons by far more than in the first match. The explanation is not so difficult as it might appear. The fact is, we played much below our best form at Oxford. E. Whittall, our captain, was a tower of strength to the side, and M. Earnshaw, Stephenson and Buck were the cream of the backs. We lose all these, as well as Whitehouse, Pollock and Moore, also very valuable players. Earnshaw's running, Stephenson's skill and Buck's cleverness were the greatest strength in our attack. Kirwan and Pantin have great merits. Pantin is a grand tackler, a good kick, and runs for all he is worth; Kirwan is an admirable fielder and kick, and the general vigour of his play is of great value; but both have the same weak spots. They both forget to pass, and when they do remember they don't do it well. Luckily these are faults that can be remedied by taking a little pains. If they will take the trouble to learn to pass well, they will be an excellent pair of "threes." In C. Faithfull, O. Whittall, McCall and Welch we had four very good forwards.

In the Second we had some fair players, but no one of eminent merit. Bols is plucky and keen; Hogg has skill and pace; Ingall has many good qualities, but does not turn them to the best account; J. Earnshaw is promising and Conran fast, but the forwards were disappointingly dull.

EAGLE HOUSE v. THE DRAGONS (Return).

At Home. Saturday, Feb. 12th, 1916. Won 36—0.

We had a glorious day for this match and luckily all sprains and colds were sufficiently cured to play our full side, except McCall or Dalrymple. The vacant place was given to J. B. Nicholson, the colds of Campbell and Soames relieving us of a decision as to their merits.

For once we discarded our usual feeble start, and went off at full steam into our opponents' territory. Two wild passes by Portman nearly let us down, but we soon assumed the upper hand and maintained it throughout, although the visitors offered a stout resistance and made some bold raids on our lines. Whittall, our captain, was the outstanding player: he shone in every department of the game, and his huge punts were invaluable to us. If we had had to play without him it would have made a big difference to our position. Next to Whittall were Buck and Stephenson. The latter played an excellent, sound game all through, and his passing and taking of passes had a great deal to do with our Three-quarters' success. Buck was very smart indeed, and the way he took the passes with which he was sometimes bombarded was quite brilliant. Portman was variable: he did a lot of good things, but was erratic with his passes. Our right wing, Kirwan and Pantin, are rather slow for three-quarters, but despite that Pantin ought to have been sent in once or twice if Kirwan could time his passes a little better. Apart from this they did well. Pantin is always a resolute, hard player with a good defence. Kirwan gave one of his best displays: he tackled well, and when he found he could not put Pantin in, he cleverly cut through himself and scored two tries in this way. Earnshaw put in some great runs, scoring three tries: he also defended well at times. Undoubtedly our left wing with Stephenson's sound play and Earnshaw's powerful running, is a strong combination. but Earnshaw has a bad habit of trying to dodge before he has any pace up, and never succeeds, though he dodges splendidly when he is moving fast. Garratt did well at full-back: he had one very good save, and one excellent recovery from a difficult situation.

The forwards were good as a pack and shoved hard, got the ball and heeled well, although they seemed a bit done at the end of the first half. Next to E. Whittall, we should commend Faithfull, and then Whitehouse and O. Whittall. Our place-kicking was rather poor, both Kirwan and Whittall being off colour. In all we scored nine tries, Kirwan three, Earnshaw three, E. Whittall two, and Stephenson one; Kirwan kicked a penalty goal. Whittall's two tries were in the first half, and Kirwan and Earnshaw had one each. With the penalty we had 17 points at half time. Potts, the Dragons' scrum-half, put up a very vigorous defence.

We had quite a number of spectators. Our best thanks are due to the Rev. T. Lemmey, of Wellington College, for his kindness in coming to referee.

Our XV.—R. Garratt: M. Earnshaw, G. Stephenson, R. Kirwan and D. Pantin: W. Buck and G. Portman: E. Whittall (captain), C. Faithfull, O. Whitehouse, O. Whittall, G. Welch, C. Pollock, F. Moore and J. B. Nicholson.

EAGLE HOUSE "A" v. MARLBOROUGH HOUSE.

This match was played on Feb. 19th, at Reading.

We won the toss and took advantage of the slope. From the very outset we pressed and shewed decidedly superior skill, which resulted in our team establishing a commanding lead, the score at half-time reading 24 points to nil, in our favour. The scorers were Pantin 2, Hogg 2, Kirwan and Garratt 1 each. Kirwan converted three of the tries.

As the score shows, our team was not extended, while the halves had no opposition, and consequently our "threes" were always attacking. J. Earnshaw rarely made a mistake and fed his centres well. The forwards were not too well together, nor did they keep their eyes on the ball in the loose. After the interval Kirwan went full-back so as to give Bols an opportunity to gain experience in the three-quarter line. This re-arrangement of the team and the fact that we played uphill made the game more even. In this half we scored three times to our opponents' one. Tries were obtained for us by Ingall, Garratt and Bols. However, none were converted. The final score was 33 points to 3.

It is hard to pick out any one for special praise, as all played well. The pick of the backs were Kirwan, J. Earnshaw and Pantin; and of the forwards, McCall and Kelly.

Our XV.—Kirwan: Garratt, Hogg, Pantin and Bols: Ingall and J. Earnshaw: McCall, J. B. Nicholson, T. Soames, Dalrymple, Girling, Kelly, Parker and W. Faithfull.

EAGLE HOUSE "A" v. CORDWALLES.

Away, Won; 30—0.

After repeated postponements for snow and rain we brought off this game on March 17th, at Cordwalles. We left out E. Whittall, McCall, Pantin and Garratt, and did not play our strong halves as a pair. The game was quite a good one. Although our superiority was decided, Cordwalles played up well, and their tackling was particularly good, especially that of Vaughan and Van Renen. We had a great advantage in the pack, where we got the ball nearly every time. Our backs were thus always on the attack. Three of them were particularly good, Earnshaw, Buck and Stephenson, who all ran and passed exceedingly well. Kirwan tried too many risky speculations; Faithfull was inclined to do the same; Portman on the wing was like a fish out of the water. Forsyth did well at full-back, and the pack all gave a good display. Our tackling might have been better. At half-time the score was 11—0. Earnshaw had two tries, and Kirwan one.

In the second half we had the hill, and added 19 points. Earnshaw and Buck each had two good tries, and Stephenson one. Of the eight tries, two were goaled by Kirwan and one by Moore.

Our XV.—E. Forsyth: M. Earnshaw, Stephenson, Kirwan and Portman: W. Buck and R. Nicholson: C. Faithfull (captain), Whitehouse, Moore, O. Whittall, and Welch: Pollock, Cumming and Standage.

EAGLE HOUSE 2nd XV. v. FARNBOROUGH (Away).

On Saturday, March 18th. Lost by 9 points to 44.

As we were asked to send a very weak team, we took our 2nd XV., but it was a mistake, as the home side had such an advantage in weight, height and pace that we had not a chance.

Our little backs played remarkably well in attack, and their excellent passing excited great admiration among our hosts and the spectators. They were, however, quite inadequate in defence, and rarely got within touching distance of the Farnborough fastest three-quarter. However, they got very little support from our forwards. The later, with the exception of McCall, showed poor form. They were sluggish, and there was no go, dash or skill in their play. They never used their feet, they never followed up fast, and they were dreadfully slow in breaking away, and so they never were able to get across and help their backs by tackling. One thing they did really well; thanks to McCall, they got the ball in almost every scrummage. R. Nicholson was in excellent form, so that, although J. Earnshaw was much below his best, our "threes" got a good many chances and scored three tries, Conran two and Bols one. Bols was the best of the "threes": Ingall was disappointing.

Our XV.—Graham: Bols, Ingall (captain), Hogg, and Conran: R. Nicholson and J. Earnshaw: McCall, T. Soames, J. Nicholson, W. Faithfull, and Girling: Dalrymple, Cumming and D. Campbell.

EAGLE HOUSE "A" v. CORDWALLES (Return).

Played at Home on March 25th. Won, 21 (3G. 2T.) to nil.

For this game we chose a weaker XV. than in the first match. This team was intended to be made up of probable members of next Season's team. Unluckily O. Whittall, Portman and McCall, were all out of action but we chose substitutes as nearly equal as possible, viz., Pollock, Stephenson and Whitehouse. This made an excellent match for the Cordwalles team. We won but not easily, partly because Cordwalles tackled very well and partly because we did not play very well. Our forwards were slow and sluggish; they did not show any dash or quickness of wit. Pollock was the exception and played a very good game. Whitehouse was fair but Faithfull was far below his usual form. The backs were not at all sound. They did not pass as well as the 2nd XV. backs did against Farnborough. Pantin was far the best of the "threes" and showed all his usual dash and courage. Stephenson was a mixture of good and bad. He took too many passes standing, but sometimes he ran with a dash, and our third try was due to the marvellous way he caught a shocking pass from Kirwan. The latter's general energy and good kicking were very useful but he will never be a good three-quarter until he learns to feed his wing and to give good passes for that purpose. Garratt was not a success: two excuses may be made for him: i.e. his vis-à-vis was a good tackler and Kirwan, by sticking to the ball himself gave him few or no chances. What chances he got he made little of. Our halves, R. Nicholson and Hogg were quite good. The slippery state of the east side of the ground hampered our passing very much. Pantin and Kirwan each scored two tries and Faithfull one.

Our Fifteen was :—Ingall, Pantin, Stephenson, Kirwan, and Garratt; R. Nicholson and Hogg; Faithfull (Captain), Pollock, Welch, Whitehouse, J. B. Nicholson, Girling, Soames and Dalrymple.

CRICKET PROSPECTS.

AT this time we have usually some cheery signs that remind us of the summer but as we write winter still reigns. We have lost or are losing the majority of last season's Eleven:—Stapledon, Boileau, Simpson, Fisher, Wilson, Knight, Whittall, Stephenson and Bulcock. Thus we are left with only two old colours, Kirwan and Portman. Our Second Eleven last year was not strong and does not cheer us with many rising stars except Hogg. Standage was the next most promising. Fortunately all these four are bowlers so that department should be fairly good. C. Faithfull is worth his place for his running alone. His wicket-keeping should also be valuable and if he will only do what he is told and give up playing French cricket he might make a useful bat. Of the others Kelly and Earnshaw seem the most likely, but it is quite clear that an Eleven will have to be made, and any boy who will try perseveringly to improve his game will have an excellent chance of playing in the First Eleven. It will be interesting to see who among us have the perseverance and determination required to win a place. We think we know one who will have a good try. In the Junior Game R. Nicholson and J. Cassels showed considerable promise and should be in the Second or perhaps even in the First. It is obvious that we shall have to make very great efforts in every department of the game if our Eleven is to approach the standard of past years. One thing we can always make good, and that is the fielding; with good fielding our bowling should be strong, but we must get some batsmen to make runs for us.

ATHLETIC SPORTS.

THIS year there is a universal feeling here as in other schools that the usual fuction of school sports, with their heavy outlay on prizes and expenses is not desirable. We shall therefore have no "School Sports" this year, but Mr. and Mrs. Lockhart will be very glad if parents who wish to come down to see their boys would come on one of the three match days about the middle of term, namely June 24th, June 28th or July 1st.

Although the School Sports will not be held this year, it was obviously advisable that the training afforded by athletic practice and contests should not be lost. We therefore held the Contests on Saturday, April 1st, in absolutely ideal weather. Despite the fact that there were no prizes beyond mention in the Magazine, the keenness was, if possible, greater than usual, and many of the contests were of the closest description, especially in the racing (M. Earnshaw beat E. Whittall (200 yards) by half-a-yard; Young beat R. Buck (Sprint) by a few inches, and Conran did the same to Bols—nearly every race, in fact, had a close fight in it).

There were five groups according to age, "A" being the Open, and "E" the youngest, i.e., under 10. For each age there were five events, two Races, two Jumps, and Throwing the Cricket Ball. A Half Mile open to the School made a total of 26 Events. The Senior Events did not this year, as often, fall to one Champion. M. Earnshaw won the 200 and the Sprint; E. Whittall the Long Jump and the Cricket Ball—the latter with a fine throw of 75 yards against the breeze. C. Faithfull won the High Jump and the Half Mile. In the latter race, instead of several laps on the field, we arranged one course all round the fields and pond.

The hero of the day was undoubtedly R. Garratt. Though under 12, he was not only first in all the Events for the Under 12½ Group, but in both the Jumps he beat the performances of both the higher Groups, "A" and "B." We think a 4 ft. 2 in. High Jump is about a record for a boy under twelve years of age.

Our practising was very much handicapped by the unfavourable weather: there was either rain or snow, or the ground was too wet therefrom, so that very few days were left for practices. This was most injurious to the Jumping, especially the Long Jump, for which the pit could not be got dry enough.

FOOTBALL KICKING COMPETITION.

THIS was held on March 29th and 30th, in three Sections—First XV., Second XV., and The Rest. The long Place Kicking was not good, and much of the Touch Finding was disappointing. Moore, Ingall and Parker, however, each kicked two out of three far out places. The Best Scorers were:—
